Curate's Corner

Dear Friends,

We are now in the Season of Lent and hopefully we are all managing to keep our promises to God, whatever they may be, to help us prepare for the solemn services in Holy Week and for the joyful celebrations on Easter Sunday.

The services for Holy Week are printed in this magazine and I would encourage you to come along to as many services as you can and journey alongside Jesus from His triumphal entry into Jerusalem, through the passion of Holy Week and into the joy of His resurrection on Easter Sunday. Please also remember the ecumenical Bible Studies for Lent which are being held in various churches in our area each Thursday and the final one at St. Cyprian's on the 14th April. These studies are a time to prepare and reflect on Christ's journey to the cross.

Our thoughts in March have been for the people of Japan as they faced the worst earthquake and tsunami in recent history. Like me, I am sure you have been shocked by this terrible disaster and the tremendous destruction and loss of life. In times like these, many questions are asked and quite often people's faith is tested as they struggle to understand why something like this could happen. I may be very naive, but I can't help but think that it is our constant striving for more, more consumer goods, more energy and bigger and better things for our world that leads us to take from nature. All the drilling for oil and gas, breaking into the earth's core that we do, must surely have some effect on the fragile balance of tectonic plates and fault lines that are found throughout our world.

As we go about our daily lives, let us give thanks to God for those who survived this earthquake in Japan and for those in Australia and New Zealand who have also come through disaster and are trying to re-build their lives. Please keep them in your prayers, and to help you I have found this prayer of concern which might help you in your daily prayer.

Prayer of Concern

Gracious God, through your Son you have taught us that nothing in life or in death is able to separate us from your love. Look in mercy on all to whom great sorrow has come at this time of natural disaster. Help those Strengthen those who operate emergency services, those who work for aid agencies, all who channel relief to those in need, those who labour to curb the spread of disease, and those who keep open the lines of communication. Console and protect those who have lost loved ones and the relatives and friends of those who are missing. Give your light in darkness to all who are near to despair, and assure them that you hold all souls in life; through Jesus Christ our risen Lord. Amen.

Pastoral Care

One of the important purposes of Christ's church is to provide the love and care we all need.

If you, or anyone you know, would like a visit from a priest or the opportunity for a confidential chat and a prayer, please contact the Curate, Revd. Moira Jamieson, who will be happy to help in any way she can.

St. Cyprian's also has a number of people who are authorised to visit and simply be a trusted friend who can be there to listen if you wish. Moira can put you in touch with an appropriate person that may be best qualified to help. Please telephone Moira on 0141-775 1161.

Bishop's Easter message

I WAS among guests the other night, after a lovely dinner party, discussing the ending of Mark's Gospel (well, the dinner party was in a rectory): for they were afraid (Mark 16.8—the following verses are almost certainly added on).

One of the consequences of this strange ending is that Mark, unlike the other Gospel writers, has no appearances of the risen Jesus, though he maybe hints at one. Really, the sparse eight verses he devotes to the resurrection is a kind of double announcement—he has been raised and he is not here. For Mark, that is the Good News of Easter—he has been raised, he is not here.

Jesus is not there in the tomb, his body is not there as it ought to have been. It is clearly very important that it is not there. But where is it? Well, the answer is clear enough. Remember that it is with some kind of body, visible and tangible, marked with the marks of Good Friday, that Jesus appears in the other Gospel accounts to various people. It is in some kind of body that he is said, later on, to ascend. The clear New Testament witness is therefore this—Jesus, raised from the dead, is not separated from his body. Extraordinary. What on earth could it mean?

The clue is given in a passage from Revelation which used to be the second reading at Matins on Easter Day. In it the risen Jesus says: 'I am the living one. I was dead and, see, I am alive for ever and ever...' The risen Jesus remembers that he was dead. In other words he has not, as it were, left his human experience behind. Rather he has taken it into new vistas. That's what 'body' means for us, the human experience of Jesus. He is never separated from his body, from his humanity.

That means, of course, that he is never separated from us. The Body of Christ, the Body of Christ, the Body of Christ... the priest says to each who receives Holy Communion. Jesus is still not separated from his body. Just because he is raised from the dead, just because that tomb was empty and could not hold him imprisoned, Jesus is free to roam where he will, free to be united with his body, with you and me, free to share in our human experience, free to be present among us; free to be with lots of people we would never dream of, free to assure us that one day, the totality of our human experience, of yours and mine, indeed of all people, will be held and yet gloriously transformed in the midst of new and deathless life, so that we will know both who we were and who we are becoming, and live fruitfully and gloriously beyond our wildest imaginings with that knowledge.

How John found Solas

(under canvas)

Inspired by England's long-running Greenbelt festival, an all-age Scottish weekend for faith, ethics and arts is taking bookings for its second year.

John McIntosh, a member of St Margaret's Newlands, was at the inaugural Solas event last summer and describes the experience here...

Taking place in a collection of marquees and tents near Biggar, South Lanarkshire, Solas 2010 was launched as 'Scotland's newest arts festival: a bold celebration and exploration of the relationships between art, faith and justice.' Running over three days, and describing itself as 'rooted in the Christian tradition', the festival was a fascinating mixture of theological, cultural and political seminars, leavened with an impressive line-up of diverse music and entertainment.

Among the performers were Deacon Blue's Ricky Ross and Lorraine McIntosh (hereafter referred to as my wee sister), members at St Margaret's for many years. Performing as McIntosh Ross, they headlined the main stage on the Saturday night and provided an intense and beautiful stew of country and gospel-tinged songs.

Singer-songwriter Brian McGlynn, who led the gospel choir during the Southside Passion play at St Margaret's in 2008, performed and led gospel-singing workshops. Many of the songs were from the Southside play, and the workshops culminated in an impromptu performance in the sunshine on the final Sunday afternoon.

Sunday started with a large and moving morning service in the main marquee, led by the Iona Community's Wild Goose Worship Group. Fiona and Brian Evans, another two long-time members of St. Margaret's, featured prominently in this. It ended with truly jaw-dropping performances by three completely diverse bands—Glasgow based folk/poppy/rocky Kitty the Lion, Edinburgh crew Stanley Odd, and the spectacular musicianship of The Peatbog Faeries.

Solas has close connections with the Greenbelt Festival, the annual English August bank holiday fixture attracting as many as 30,000 in its heyday. As Scots can find it difficult to get to Greenbelt, this Scottish alternative has been long overdue. It provides a forum for anyone interested in—or just curious about—faith to meet, celebrate and discuss the role of that faith in modern life.

I certainly had a hugely stimulating and entertaining weekend: met some old friends and made some new ones; heard some fantastic music and some fascinating speakers, including Richard Holloway, Alistair McIntosh, Douglas Alexander (got the chance to ask him an awkward question); ate wonderfully tasty and affordable food; pitched my tent without too much fuss.

Amazingly, the sun shone (mostly) and, less amazingly, the setting was stunning.

It will be hard to forget the sight and sound of hundreds of people singing gospel songs as the midsummer sun shone from a clear blue sky.

All in all, Solas was a great way to start the summer holidays, and certainly worth thinking about if you're looking for something different to do this year. Have a look at the website. Speak to those of us who were there.

Go on: look out the tent and sleeping bag (and maybe the wellies and umbrella). You'll only regret it if you don't.

Solas Festival 2011 takes place at Wiston Lodge, Biggar, 24-26 June. Visit www.solasfestival.co.uk.

Future Ministry at St Cyprian's

The Vestry called a Special Consultative Meeting of the Congregation after the 10.30am service on Sunday 13th February where Maxine Gow and I presented the highlights of the work done so far and asked for your feedback.

Thank you to all who attended and for your contributions to the discussion. The view I took away from the meeting was that the congregation was behind finding the right leader to take St Cyprian's forward to future growth spiritually and numerically. The type of appointment, whether part-time or full-time was a secondary matter, though we would need diocesan support to underwrite a full-time appointment until we became self-sufficient.

I think everyone believes that a full-time appointment is most likely to meet our needs, but there is a possibility that the right person would be willing to travel with us in faith on a less financially challenging basis.

Following this meeting, Maxine and I met with the Bishop's Staff Group on 24th February to discuss our situation and to present our case. As you might expect, there were some difficult questions of the sort I would have wanted answered if I had been part of the group. We hope we gave the group an honest appraisal of the congregation's strengths and weaknesses and its prospects for the future.

At the end of the meeting, we were told that the group would consider our case in the period up to its next meeting. Then there would either be a decision or we would be asked for further information. I'm very hopeful that the group will reach a decision at the next meeting, due at the end of March, shortly after this edition of Cyprian Life closed for printing.

Then we can start to look for our new leader and bring this long interregnum to an end.

Please pray for the Bishop's Staff Group and the Vestry as we move through this important phase and continue to pray for Moira that she will continue to have the strength to sustain all the work she is doing for us all.

Growth Plans Gather Pace

Plans are now well under way for the launch of the Diocesan Growth Strategy, writes Ministry Development Officer, Anne Tomlinson.

Every Region will be holding a service around Pentecost, using a common liturgy written for the occasion.

To emphasise the diocesan nature of this work, the preacher and president at each service will be the Bishop. The service will also include symbolic actions or symbols appropriate to the local context.

That balance between ‘the local’ and ‘the diocesan’ in the Launch Liturgy is symbolic of the Strategy as a whole. For, while it is a coherent set of pathways guiding our corporate life over the next five years, offered and led by the Bishop, that ‘framework’ will enable each charge to grow according to the nature of the local soil and ‘weather conditions’. The fruits growing up the trellis will be different according to context.

Launch services will be held in the following places:

✧ Galloway:

St Ninian’s, Castle Douglas
6 June at 7pm

✧ Glasgow South and Renfrewshire:

St Fillan’s, Kilmacolm
7 June 2011 at 7.30pm

✧ Glasgow North West:

All Saints, Bearsden
13 June at 7.30pm

✧ Ayrshire:

St Ninian’s, Troon
21 June at 7.30pm

✧ Glasgow North East:

St James, Bishopbriggs,
22 June at 7pm

✧ Lanarkshire:

St Mary the Virgin, Hamilton
23 June at 7.30pm

So what happens after the launch?

All charges will be invited to call a facilitator to come and work alongside them in drawing up their Mission Action Plan (MAP) for the coming year.

A MAP acts as a ‘compass’, pointing out the direction in which the charge will work, and a ‘magnet’, drawing all members to co-operate in shared aims and objectives. MAP facilitators will work with up to two congregations—neither of which would be their own—accompanying them as they produce their Plan and thereafter keeping a watching brief as the charge seeks to implement the actions it has identified. This ‘partnership’ with the congregation will be reviewed annually, for a maximum of five years.

The Bishop or the Dean will visit every charge once a year to listen to the stories of avenues explored via the MAP, and to share in celebrating those ventures which have worked well and learning from those that have not been successful. Both are important, and the most important aspect of all is the fact that new ventures have been tried. These stories of growth will also be shared across Regions and Diocese by a variety of other means: through a dedicated website, at Regional meetings, at synods and through DNS.

As members of the diocese we will work hard at planting and watering, and will be supporting one another too, but the Strategy is underpinned by an awareness that it is God who makes things grow, and that we are co-workers in God’s service (1 Cor 3, 6-9). So in the lead-up to the launch let us all pray the Growth Strategy prayer: Spirit of our Loving God, in your mercy and compassion inspire, encourage and empower us to live and work together as a Diocese, to allow your mission for us to take flesh through Jesus Christ our Living and Eternal Lord. Amen.

What Happened at Diocesan Synod

The annual Diocesan Synod was presided over by the Bishop, the Right Revd Dr Gregor Duncan on Saturday 5 March. Diocesan Secretary, Gib Fitzgibbon gives an overview of the day.

It was attended by the Lay Reps of most charges, most of the clergy in the diocese, and visitors from other denominations and from our companion diocese of Gothenburg.

The Bishop's Charge spoke of Growing with God's Grace in the Diocese of Glasgow and Galloway, ending with the prayer: Spirit of our Loving God, in your mercy and compassion inspire, encourage and empower us to live and work together as a diocese, to allow your mission for us to take flesh through Jesus Christ our Living and Eternal Lord. Amen.

Appointments and elections

Synod appointed the Diocesan Secretary, Diocesan Treasurer, the Property Committee, the Boundaries Committee, and the Diocesan Auditor; and elected diocesan reps to General Synod, the Provincial Faith & Order Board, the Vacancy-in-See panel, and the Provincial Finance Committee. The diocesan place on the Provincial Information & Communications Board remained unfilled, and anyone interested is invited to contact the Diocesan Secretary.

Synod

Synod approved the accounts for last year, and the Budget for the current year. The finances of the Diocese are sound, and we continue to weather the financial storms thanks to a well-structured portfolio. The only residual effect of the Paisley project will be payment of loan interest to the Diocese.

Synod approved the proposed changes to Canon 62 which will bring the retirement ages of stipendiary and non-stipendiary clergy into line (until such time as proposed new legislation changes the rules on retirement).

Presentations were received on:

Progress on the implementation of the Diocesan Strategic Review, due to be launched across the Diocese at Pentecost;

Mercy Ships—the subject of this year's Lent Appeal—which brings relief and medical treatment to the poorest people, principally on the West Coast of Africa;

Being the Rural Church, and Faith and the Future of the Countryside;

Theology and the sustainable environment;

The work and proposals of the Diocesan Ministry Development Officer, Revd Dr Anne Tomlinson, with particular emphasis on the role of a learning culture in making the Growth Strategy a success.

Gender imbalance in the Scottish Episcopal Church, with the prospect of three congregations in the Province being selected to develop understanding of gender issues in the church.

Next Synods

General Synod, 9 - 11 June 2011; Clergy Conference, 5 - 8 September 2011;

Diocesan Synod, 3 March 2012 (TBC).

If you would like to know any more about any of the happenings at Synod, please let me know. There is a separate supplement containing the annual reports to Synod from the Action Networks, together with a full copy of the Bishop's Charge available at the back of the church and on line.

After-prison Team Go to Lomond-side

The Faith in Throughcare project at St Matthew's Possilpark took 12 volunteers on a 24-hour team-building session to Luss Parish Church last month.

The project recruits and trains volunteers to support people coming out of prison from short sentences, to help them integrate back into their local community.

A spokesman said: "It attempts to address the revolving door of re-offending that exists between places like Possilpark and Barlinnie."

The visit to Luss, with its six 6-bunk cabins next to Loch Lomond shore, was the project's first attempt to take volunteers away. It gave an opportunity to discuss many of the complex issues involved in being a volunteer for such a challenging group of people. The parish glebe, near the burial place of St Kessog, has a Stations of the Cross walk which participants used to share some of the extraordinary and moving experiences of pain and joy that such a group could bring.

The project group enjoyed beautiful scenery, great food and meetings round a real fire in the manse. But only a few could face the dawn hike up the hill behind the village after the Old Firm game the night before, but Dane, the parish minister, led the way with Fr. David Wostenholm wheezing through the mists above Loch Lomond coming in a poor second! This led to the headline Minister Beats Priest up Luss Hill on the diocesan website.

Booking Open for Youth Weeks

Glen '11: Mission Possible is the name of the Provincial Youth Weeks that will be taking place at Glenalmond College, Perthshire.

There is a choice of dates: 31 July-6 August and 7-13 August. The weeks are open to all members of the Scottish Episcopal Church aged 12-18 who have completed their first year of secondary education.

There are some voluntary leadership team vacancies this year. There is space for up to five trainee leaders to attend in Week 1. Candidates should be available for the training weekend (3-5 June) and week 1 (30 July-6 August). There is an application process and success will be based on interview and PVG

(the process replacing SCRO checks).

The organisers are also looking for someone each week to perform the role of 'camp recorder'. This will involve taking and collating photographs and video footage and presenting the end product in DVD format within tight timescales. Again, this is subject to application and PVG. Recorders would be required to attend the training weekend and either week 1 or week 2.

Anyone interested should email christinem@scotland.anglican.org for an application form. For details and a booking form visit www.scotland.anglican.org or contact Christian Okeke (0141 221 5720).

The closing date is 6 June.

Earthquake Doctor's Son in Twin Cathedral Concert

A SINGER at a benefit concert for people affected by the New Zealand earthquake described how his father escaped from a high-rise building there.

Pictures of the damaged Christchurch Cathedral prompted musician Michael Bawtree to organise the fundraiser at St Mary's Cathedral.

Provost Kelvin Holdsworth described the concert as an act of solidarity with the people of Christchurch. He said: "Christchurch Cathedral is like a 'twin' of St Mary's Episcopal Cathedral in Glasgow, having been built by the same architect at almost exactly the same time. As we look around the building in Glasgow, our hearts go out to those who are struggling to cope in a damaged city half a world away."

Stephen Chambers, an RSAMD Opera student, was one of two New Zealanders who performed at the concert. His father, a doctor, was attending a conference in Christchurch when the earthquake hit.

Stephen said: "He managed to escape unscathed from the 14th floor of his hotel, which looked as though it was about to collapse.

"Through all of the aftershocks and devastation on the streets, he joined medical teams at trauma centres that had been quickly assembled to treat the injured and those that were being pulled from collapsed buildings. He worked through the night."

The concert raised more than £4,000.

Canon Woodley's Golden Jubilee

Canon John Woodley hopes to observe the 50th anniversary of his ordination as a priest with a celebration of the Eucharist on Saturday 28 May.

In place of gifts, opportunity will be given for donations to be made to the Bishop Goldie Fund for training ordinands. For catering purposes, please advise the diocesan centre (0141-221 5720) if you are going to attend.

The 7th Grosvenor Essay, Thinking the Nicene Creed: Incarnation is now available.

Based around the Nicene Creed, a fundamental part of the Eucharistic Liturgy of the Scottish Episcopal Church, it explores central issues in the life, thought and worship of the Church today, and looks towards the future. Incarnation is a concept at the heart of the Creed, and the key to the salvation which it promises to humanity. Why incarnation? Would it not be a good idea to free ourselves from some of these ancient formulations in the 21st century? This is a fair question, and not a new one. To answer it Grosvenor Essay 7 looks at incarnation in the tradition and the contemporary life of our Church.

Copies cost £3 and can be obtained through the General Synod Office at 21 Grosvenor Crescent, Edinburgh (reception@scotland.anglican.org).

Bishop Gregor has been appointed Acting Convener of the Faith and Order Board by the Primus.

Revd Hon Sydney Maitland was licensed as Priest-in-Charge for All Saints

Jordanhill at a service on 12 March 2011.

Sydney was made deacon in 1986 in the non-stipendiary ministry and then ordained priest in 1987, serving as honorary curate-in-charge of St George's Maryhill until 2001. Since 2003 he has been a non-stipendiary priest at St Bride's, Hyndland Rd. He also assisted in the annual pilgrimage to Haddington and Whitekirk, being particularly involved with a youth camp which was associated with it.

Sydney explained: "When the former rector of All Saints, Jordanhill and Holy Cross, Knightswood left the charge, I was asked to serve as interim priest during the vacancy. I found that All Saints was an active and enthusiastic congregation, looking forward to new areas of ministry and church life. I had been offered early retirement from the planning service in 2010. Under the circumstances I felt that this was an opportunity and a challenge that I did not wish to miss and if I could assist the church, I was pleased to be able to do so."

In Memoriam

William Morris
1924 - 2011

Pauline Morris
1925 - 2011

We said a fond farewell to Bill and Pauline at a joint funeral service held in St Cyprian's on Thursday 10th February 2011. It was a moving sight to see the two coffins placed side by side in the chancel and it seemed so appropriate that a couple who had shared 64 years of their lives together in love should be close together for this final act of remembrance.

Julie, their eldest granddaughter, read a poem written by Pauline on a subject close to her heart, tea. This is reproduced on page 19.

Having lived in Essex for over 30 years, their daughter Sarah had written a lot of letters to her parents over the years and she recalled fond memories of family life in the form of a final letter to them. There were the car journeys to visit friends and relatives where Bill would entertain the children with rhymes to keep their spirits up. There was 26 Laurel Avenue which was their home and hub for comfort and support, which will now be very much missed. She recalled the visiting grandchildren wrapped in blankets on the settee and Pauline's statements about the heat in the house though, of course, she was wearing three jumpers! Mum always had projects to keep the grandchildren and great grandchildren entertained, but they were always cleared away so the family could sit round the dining table for their meals. There was rarely a cross word, well apart from the Herald Crossword that Pauline loved to do!

Next it was the turn of John, husband to their daughter Sherril, to give a picture of their lives and his recollections since joining the family over 40 years ago.

He found them inspirational in how they led their lives and how they always looked for the good in other people, even those who were difficult and aggressive.

He recalled how Bill loved to tell stories and was apologetic if the stories were rather long! Bill was born in Cwmbach, a south Wales village near Aberdare. His father was a miner who was injured in a mine collapse so he was pleased when Bill managed to get a job on local newspaper, the Aberdare Leader. Bill continued to receive the paper right up till his death and occasionally offered words of advice to the publisher!

Meanwhile Pauline was in London with her parents and two sisters. He recalled her stories of seaside holidays with her father who bought a new suit of clothes for the occasion and her mother and her hamper of homemade jams and other goodies. She had a gift for painting word pictures as well as pictures on paper.

Bill left the Welsh valleys to go into the army in 1942. John recalled two contrasting stories, one where Bill was leading troops off a landing craft onto the Normandy beaches in 1944 through raging seas deeper than he was tall—a very difficult and traumatic time, the second from only about a year later where he was sitting down with local people in Germany to help them rebuild their shattered community—he wanted to do it out of love for the people and he showed it through recalling the names of the people and other details.

Pauline and Bill married in 1947 (you may recall they celebrated their Diamond wedding in 2007 and a photo and article appeared in the May & June 2007 edition of this magazine—still available on our website—and the Kirkintilloch Herald), a match made in heaven.

Sherril, Tony and Sarah were all born while they were in London. Meantime, Bill was studying at night school to advance himself.

They came to Lenzie in 1957 when Bill became head of department at the College of Printing in Glasgow. They quickly became part of the local community including St Cyprian's. Pauline had an open-door policy towards the local children. She had a children's library, with every book individually read to make sure it was suitable. When the children grew up, Pauline went to teacher training college and, after qualifying, taught at Lairdsland Primary for eight years.

Bill went on to become depute principal at the College of Building and Printing and finally principal of Anniesland College until he retired in 1989. He was involved in the Printing Industry Training Board and was vastly respected in the printing industry throughout the world. He was a chairman of the Association of College Principals and probably the longest-serving member of Kelvin Rotary, where he was a past president. His contribution to Rotary was recognised through the award of a Paul Harris Fellowship, an honour also awarded to his brother Ronald.

Despite all the demands on their time, their primary focus was on the family. They loved them and were very proud of them. John has found it wonderful to be associated with the family and has felt he was welcomed and loved by them all. They loved to see others being happy and would do all they could to bring such happiness wherever they could. He quoted Charles Chaplin who said the greatest frustration in life is true love because it cannot be described. John found this comforting because he was having trouble describing it. You could only see it in action and you could see it in Bill and Pauline. They would want us to be happy that we have been touched by their lives and to carry on their example in the future and be happy.

Moir Jamieson spoke about their great contribution to the life of St Cyprian's and the local community over more than 50 years. Bill was secretary to the Vestry for many years (the Herald obituary states 14 years). During his period of office, the church went through a period of major refurbishment and Bill managed to find sources of grants and loans that paid for a very high percentage of the works.

Bill & Pauline Morris

Pauline was a great helper at all the fundraising activities especially coffee mornings and the St Cyprian's Christmas Fayre. She was also an active member of the Craft and Fellowship Group and the Art Group. Both were members of the Glasgow Welsh Society and Pauline was its treasurer until fairly recently.

As John had mentioned, Bill had been highly active in Kelvin Rotary and Kirkintilloch Probus. When his health began to fail, Kelvin Rotary would sometimes meet in Lenzie so he could attend (picture above is of Bill with Tony during the Rotary meeting at Irrocco in Lenzie).

They made a major contribution to the life of St Cyprian's and the wider community and they will be greatly missed. We are fortunate to have known such lovely people. May they rest in peace and rise in glory.

There was an obituary for Bill in The Herald which can be read on line. Search for William Morris Academic and it is likely to be the first result returned.

Left

Bill was delighted when Glennis was awarded a Paul Harris Fellowship in June last year. Due to particularly poor health at the time, he was not able to attend the meeting where the award took place, but Glennis visited him immediately afterwards to share the good news.

Gift Aid Update

I will be completing the claim for the 2010/11 financial year this month. It brought to mind the fact that the amount we can claim with effect from 6th April 2011 will only be 25p for each pound compared to the present 28p. This will clearly have a profound effect on our income for future years.

In order to meet this shortfall if anyone who pays tax in any way and is not a member of the gift aid scheme joins us as soon as possible. Remember, it costs you nothing to join and there is no set commitment other than you pay enough tax to cover the amount we reclaim on your gift. We are able to go back only four years now to reclaim on past giving as opposed to six. In these difficult times it is not easy to ask for more, but if we can make up the 3p difference or more it would be much appreciated.

Gift Aid forms are available from myself and I would be happy to answer any question you may have.

Tea

by Pauline Morris

When I hear the kettle sing
it always pleases me, for I am ever ready for another cup of tea.
For the blend I do not fuss for Earl Grey or Darjeeling.
Before I start I warm the pot and water must be boiling.
Bone china mug or any cup will do,
then I put the milk in first.
Leave to brew a little while stir then I quench my thirst.

*Read at the funeral by Julie,
(Pauline's eldest granddaughter).*

On the Wagon

Our Winter 2010/11 Music Series was brought to a rousing close on Saturday 19th March with a feast of entertainment from the folk/ceilidh band, On the Wagon.

As the pictures show, they play a wide variety of instruments and music—definitely something for everyone.

The evening raised over £650 for St Cyprian's funds and we're already talking about when they can come back!

If you missed the concert, search on YouTube for On the Wagon Folk Band to get a flavour of what they have to offer.

Car Boot Sale

The first sale of the year coincided with a late fall of snow, which drove everyone indoors. Nevertheless, the advertising worked well and there was a surprisingly good turnout.

The event raised around £275 after expenses, so was well worth doing. This is now going to be a regular event on the second Saturday of alternate months from March to November.

Ending Prostitution

Whilst we believe that any step to prevent trafficking and support the victims/survivors of this appalling crime should be maintained, crucially, the only long term solution to the problem is to cut the demand at source.

We're hoping to encourage the campaigning organisation 38 degrees to pick up this campaign. If enough people vote for the 'ending prostitution' suggested campaign then 38 degrees may take this on as one of their official campaigns and send it through the email system to thousands of people.

Trish Godman's (MSP) private members bill to criminalise the buying (not the selling of sex) has just received sufficient cross party support to continue through to the next stage. To those unfamiliar with this, it means (very briefly) that the punter becomes the criminal not the prostitute. Sweden did this in 1999 and since then the numbers of prostitutes and trafficked girls in Sweden has plummeted. It is vital that the public get to hear about this so they can support the bill through parliament and lobby their MSP to vote for it.

We would really appreciate your support in voting for this campaign and leaving a comment in the box provided.

Please go to the following web page and follow the directions there:

<http://muscotland.org.uk/EndProstitution.htm>

If you would like to add your name to the petition calling for the UK to opt in to a proposed EU directive to Stop Human Trafficking there is a link on the same page.

Links to further information about Trish Goodman's members bill is available there as well as information about the End Prostitution campaign which is a campaign led by Glasgow City Council.

There is also an article about this on the Glasgow and Galloway page of the website.

Ye Are My Witnesses

A Eucharist and Thanksgiving Service was held at Holy Cross Church, Knightswood, on Sunday 20th February 2011, led by Bishop Gregor and Rev Ivan Draper. The thanksgiving was to mark the witness and commitment of Mary Reynolds who has served as a member of Mothers' Union for 51 years.

Mary recalled that all the joining services were held in the cathedral with each candidate required to recite the Promises.

Bishop Gregor read the Promises from Mary's joining certificate which had the heading Ye Are My Witnesses and had been signed by the Primus, John Halland How. Bishop Gregor recalled his own ordination when he was advised that it is not the initial commissioning, but the continuous witness and commitment that matters. Prayers were offered for Mary, the congregation of Holy Cross and Mothers' Union members.

Everyone present enjoyed the whole experience, which was enhanced by joyous music and fellowship. Mary holding her new certificate is photographed with her daughter Kathryn (from St Cyprian's) and Bishop Gregor.

La Paz del Tuma is coffee-farming community in Jinotega Nicaragua. The farmers hope that one day they will be able to use their community fund to build a new school. Currently, children have their lessons in a warehouse that was once used to store dangerous chemicals.

Christian Aid/Tom Pilston

For the people of Jinotega, Nicaragua, coffee isn't just a caffeine kick – it's a means of transforming the lives of entire communities. By getting involved in Christian Aid Week, you can help to make this transformation possible.

Five years ago, Eladio Simeón Pineda's community was a group of poor farm labourers. Then Christian Aid partner Soppexcca (pronounced so-pecks-ka) offered them credit to establish themselves as coffee farmers and supported them to work together as a cooperative.

Eladio and the other members of the La Paz del Tuma cooperative now hope that together they will transform their own community.

Even though the coffee farmers of La Paz del Tuma have only been working with Soppexcca for a short time, their lives are already changing for the better. The credit which Soppexcca gave to Eladio and the other farmers has been vital in getting them started. The cooperative has a community fund that will be used to achieve the dreams which Eladio and his fellow farmers once thought were out of their reach.

'I hope one day we will have a school on this land, clean water and latrines,' says Eladio. Eladio knows that transformation is possible. He is driven by the example of a nearby community, where Gustavo Adolfo

Help people in poverty out of poverty

Talavera and the members of the Los Alpes cooperative have been supported by Soppexcca for 12 years. In that time, they have successfully worked to establish a school and a health centre for their community.

The hopes of the people of La Paz del Tuma are hopes held for the whole community. Eladio works every day towards his dream of a purpose-built school, clean water and latrines for all the farming families of La Paz del Tuma. Soppexcca's support for coffee cooperatives like La Paz del Tuma and Los Alpes allows communities to see a bigger picture, full of possibilities for the future.

You can be part of the story of transformation which is unfolding right now in Nicaragua.

- £14 could buy enough coffee seeds to plant a 0.7 hectare plot of coffee and start one farmer on the path out of poverty.
- £2,170 could pay for a processing plant, allowing farmers to process the coffee they have grown and then sell it for a better price.

By getting involved in Christian Aid Week in your own community, you can help to turn the hopes of communities all around the world into realities. You can be part of a movement which is transforming lives.
