Curate's Corner

Dear Friends,

We are fast approaching Advent and the lead up to our Christmas Services. As you know, Advent is a time of preparation for the coming of the Christ child and it is also a time for us to reflect on the year that has past and to look forward to the future. All of us lead busy lives and too often we can get caught up in the frenzy and hype of a commercial Christmas.

One of the ways in which we can prepare ourselves for Christmas is to take part in the Advent Meditation evenings which will be advertised soon in the Link.

Advent is all about a time of waiting. In Biblical times the people were waiting for great prophecies to be fulfilled and quite often they had to have endless amounts of patience. I suppose that the pace of life was much slower than what we face today in our busy and sometimes chaotic lives, but the waiting is still the same.

Most of us probably feel 'waiting' is something that seems like a waste of time and can cause us to become increasingly impatient, anxious or even at times angry. There are lots of things in our lives which affect us in this way: rushing to catch a bus that doesn't show up and we have to wait for the next one; sitting in the dentist or doctor's waiting room for what seems like an age before we are seen; waiting anxiously for a letter to arrive offering us an interview for a job or news of a relative who is ill. In an age when we live by the clock, waiting can be interminable!

But waiting is a holy word. It is a Bible word. The Old Testament is just that; a thousand year record of waiting for the coming of the Messiah, for the great Day of the Lord, when His power and glory would be revealed to all nations. And in the New Testament we finally hear of the coming of Jesus Christ, the true Messiah for all people, and whose disciples in their turn again had to wait.

In chapter one of the Acts of the Apostles verses 4 and 5 we are told, "While staying with them, He (Jesus) ordered them not to leave Jerusalem, but to wait there for the promise of the Father. 'This,' He said, 'is what you have heard from me; for John baptized with water, but you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit not many days from now.'" And so the twelve disciples had to wait for the coming of the

Magazine & DNS Deadline

The next issue of Cyprian Life should be available in Church on Sunday 4th December 2011. The deadline for material is 20th November and the magazine will cover December and January.

Please pass notes, articles, photographs and anything else that may be of interest to other members of the congregation to me by the deadline in order to give time for typesetting and printing. Electronic format is preferred since this is usually quicker and more accurate.

Please let me know about what is important to you. It is great to be able to report family events and things happening in our local community. Thank you.

Diocesan News for November was not available in time to be included in this issue. However, it can be downloaded from the diocesan website: www.glasgow.anglican.org

Click on the link on the home page to access the current and earlier editions. If you don't have Internet access, but would like to read DNS, a few printed copies will be available at the back of the Church.

Diocesan News is published ten times per year. If you have items that would be of interest across the Diocese, please send them to the Diocesan News editor, Susi Cormack Brown, e-mail: dns@episcopalglasgow.co.uk or by post to c/o Glasgow & Galloway Diocesan Centre, 5 St Vincent Place, Glasgow G1 2DH. Please send in prose text, i.e. not leaflets, adverts, posters or PDFs. The deadline for the December/January issue will be Monday 14th November 2011.

The views expressed in Cyprian Life and the Diocesan News are not necessarily those of the Editor of either publication or the Diocesan Information and Communications Group.

Holy Spirit before they could begin to work on forming the new Church which would bring so many to faith through their word.

In the ages that followed, many Christians, as today, were waiting for the return of their Lord to judge the world and make all things new. And so, Advent is a celebration of waiting. It looks both back and forward—back to the old prophesies of the Messiah and forward to the second coming of Christ. We light a candle on each of the Sundays of Advent, and in this way, the Light is coming into the world week by week.

The few days between the lighting of these candles represents the centuries of waiting, and as the light grows stronger each week, it finally reaches its climax with the fifth candle of Christmas. The great cycle of the Christian year begins once again, as we wait for the Lord whose incarnate life we will follow from birth to death and beyond. It is the new year of the Church, a solemn beginning, but a happy one.

"They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength. They shall mount up with wings like eagles. They shall run and not be weary. They shall walk and not faint." Isaiah 40:31

In the service of Christ,

Pet Blessing Service

We welcomed nineteen dogs, a cat, a hamster and, of course, Adrian's horse to the service on 1st October 2011 (though we didn't quite have the courage to bring the horse inside!).

This is the second time we have held this type of service, following the success last year. Despite the very wet weather on the morning, even more pets and their owners and friends came along this year. The pets were very well behaved and it almost seemed as if the dogs were joining in the singing.

The service was followed by refreshments in the Hall for the pets and their owners.

ROC

Moir, Susan, Pat and I took up an invitation to take part in a ROC Conversation at Kirkintilloch Baptist Church on Tuesday 25th October 2011.

None of us was quite sure what we were letting ourselves in for! We'd been promised a meal and conversation, but it was so much more. It was a very interesting exploration about how churches, public services, voluntary organisations and local authorities can work together to bring major improvements in our local community.

I found myself at a table with three police officers, a fire officer, a Church of Scotland minister and a local councillor. After the meal, we were given a series of short presentations highlighting the work ROC has done around the UK especially in the Manchester area. One initiative in particular is the ROC Cafe, a concept that provides safe places for younger people, who might otherwise get into trouble, to meet and have fun.

Then we were asked in our table groups to consider three questions for our own community:

- What do we hope our community will look like in 5 years time?
- What resources do we, at this table, have to offer our community needs?

REDEEMING OUR COMMUNITIES

CONVERSATION

- What could be done through working together?

The time allocated was quite short so the discussion could have gone on much, much longer nonetheless it was encouraging to see how much goodwill and enthusiasm there was around the table. The key points and our individual contact details were captured and in due course we should receive a summary of all the discussions. It is hoped this will form the basis of us forming a ROC partnership locally.

More about ROC:

Redeeming Our Communities is a National Charity founded in 2004 with outlets and partnerships across the UK. The aim of ROC is to be a catalyst for community transformation by promoting partnerships which open up more opportunities for crime and disorder reduction, and enhanced community cohesion. We bring together community groups, churches, the police, the fire service, local authorities and voluntary agencies to encourage them to work together in positive partnerships for practical change. As a result, statutory agencies have improved access to the support of community/church groups, and thousands of volunteers are enabled to better serve the needs of their community. This idea is proving to be even more valuable in the light of the current economic climate and the Big Society.

ROC Values:

Strong vision for social change: we are committed to see real and sustained social change for the good of people and communities.

Positive focus: seeing the good in people and places—there is much to applaud and commend in every community and we have seen how powerful it is when goodness is identified and celebrated.

Christian-led: but open to all people of goodwill regardless of their faith or otherwise.

Empowerment: enabling local groups and sharing the model. Many have benefited from using the ROC name to promote their local projects.

Long Term: community transformation is not realised through events or quick-fix solutions—our work continues beyond the event through local ROC core teams and ROC Ambassadors.

Partnerships: our vision is for the whole community—all sectors, branches, and classes coming together to make transformation happen.

The People's Bible in Lenzie

The People's Bible came to Lenzie on Sunday 11th September 2011. Due to poor weather, the travelling "Pod" was set up in Lenzie Old Parish Church Hall rather than at the station.

Pat (right) and I were amongst the many people of Lenzie who wrote out two verses of the Bible onto paper with a digital pen. The pen is normally connected to the project website www.thepeoplesbible.org so that within 5 minutes your own handwritten verses are visible there. In our case, the system worked perfectly. Within 5 minutes we had an email on our mobile phone with a link to our verses. It was really exciting to be able to prove that the system worked and to see the verses right there in the hall on the screen of the phone. Unfortunately, shortly after that, the internet connection failed. However, the local system still recorded the verses and they became available on-line later. If you would like to see what we or anyone else have written there, you can search by name on the website.

The photo to the left is of the members of the local Bible Society action group on the day of the People's Bible visit.

It is still possible to add verses until 15th November, but you would have to travel some distance to find a "Pod". The project finishes with a special service on 16th November 2011 at Westminster Abbey.

Cutting the festival cake

September and October have seen a great deal of activity in celebration and fundraising and November is shaping up to be even busier.

Over the Weekend closest to our patronal festival (10th & 11th September 2011), we took part in the Doors Open Day event on Saturday and at the same time held our September Car Boot Sale, while in the evening, we had the first of our Winter Series Concerts. On Sunday, we had our Festal Eucharist followed by cutting of the cake. The whole weekend was a great success both spiritually and financially and our thanks go to all who helped in any way to make it so.

our members brought along some old car items for sale and St Cyprian's provided a cafe service

In October, we introduced a new idea for a coffee morning on the theme of Apple Harvest (above and upper right pictures). It seemed to be well received and looks set to become an annual event.

The following weekend, on Saturday, 22nd October, we welcomed the Scottish Western Thoroughbred Vehicle Club for their Auto Jumble (right). One or two of throughout the day. Everyone seemed to enjoy the venture and this is also likely to become an annual event.

Now we are looking forward to the events in November, starting with the Car Boot Sale on the 12th, then the Viennese Concert on the 19th and finally our Christmas Fayre on the 26th. Hope you can all stand the pace!

Annual General Meeting

The Annual General Meeting of the congregation will take place on Sunday 13th November 2011 (Remembrance Sunday) after the 10.30am service at approximately 12noon.

Nominations are invited for a number of elections and all members of the congregation are encouraged to attend. A booklet of AGM papers will be available at least one week before the meeting.

This year sees the 90th Scottish Poppy Appeal. Poppyscotland uses money raised from the Appeal to provide support to veterans of all ages and from all conflicts. In recent years Poppyscotland has seen an increase of 84% in its average expenditure per beneficiary and the charity needs to raise more money as it believes there will be an increase in the numbers of veterans needing its support in the future.

Ian McGregor, Chief Executive of Poppyscotland, commented: "This is a very important year for Poppyscotland. When the Scottish Poppy Appeal was created in 1921 no-one would have considered that ninety years on it would still be needed. Sadly, it is needed as much now as it ever was, with more and more veterans requiring a great deal of support to help them deal with often complex and multiple needs. That's why we are calling for the Scottish public to give as much as they can to the Appeal to ensure that veterans and their families and Scotland will receive the help they need and deserve now and in the future."

As part of the 90th anniversary celebrations an independent historian has compiled an account of the history of the Scottish Poppy Appeal, to highlight its origins and the driving force behind it. A two-week TV and radio advertising campaign, currently underway with the theme of Unforgettable, will help the charity convey how the poppy helps veterans today, while still keeping remembrance at its core, but reflecting it in a positive and forward-looking way.

The charity has also launched a new idea on its website, "a virtual poppy for you to share". Whether you want to show your appreciation, to remember a loved one or just to show you care, you can plant a "virtual" poppy with Poppyscotland and share it with your friends and family (click the link on the home page of www.poppyscotland.org.uk). You can also sign up there to receive the supporters' newsletter.

As always the Gardens of Remembrance in Edinburgh and Glasgow will be open to the public right up to Remembrance Sunday.
